Class History

The freshman class of 1947 consisted of only thirty members. To most of us it was a new and confusing experience. One of the first big events of the year was initiation. Tricks and stunts were in store for the evening's performance. The first all-school event was Homecoming. Our class attendant was Beatrice Kalkhoff. The first member to leave our class was LeRoy Boklep and soon Kenneth Ruchtaeschel also left. The officers for the class were: President, Marlys Bangerter; Vice President, Vernon Maxa; Secretary-Treasurer, Thrasilla Shemon; and Student Council members were, Dorothy Reynolds, Fred Dallmann, and Glen Bock. The class advisor was Mr. Kellogg. Gene Norcutt of Milroy was admitted to our class. Two delegates, Dorothy Reynolds, and Fred Dallmann were selected by the class to view the Freedom Train at Wilmar. We entertained the sophomores at a theatre and weiner roast party. To end a year of new experiences, we acted as 'Big Brothers and Sisters' to the visiting eighth graders.

We opened up the sophomore year with admittance of a new member, Gerald Lehne, who became our Vice President. The President was Fred Dallmann; Secretary, Pat Mahal; and Treasurer Vernon Maxa. Mr. Dave Johnson was our class advisor. Glen Bock, Marlys Bangerter, and James Kratzke represented our class on the Student Council. Our sophomore homecoming was a memorable event with Shirley Schroeder as our attendant to the queen. A gala, exciting event was the all-school carnival which was held in the school auditorium. The king candidate was Arnold Kruse and Audrey Bangerter was the queen candidate. The Dramatics Club presented three one-act plays. Some of us sophomores had parts in the 'Red Velvet Goat' and 'Riders to the Sea.' Members were chosen to be waiters and waitresses at the junior-senior banquet with the theme 'April Showers.' On May 10, the class went to Ramsey State Park for a class picnic.

Mr. Gordon Besemann and Mr. Marlyn Ingebritson were class advisors for the junior year. The officers who were elected were: President, Pat Mahal; Vice President, Shirley Schroeder; Secretary, Beatrice Kalkhoff; and Treasurer, Norma Skoblik. Members from our class on the Student Council were James Kratzke, Vernon Maxa, and Lorange Geske. Dennis Goblirsch transferred from St. Anne's to our class. Dorothy Reynolds was queen attendant for the annual homecoming festivities. The class resumed to the former number of members when Gerald Lehne moved to Brownton. Fred Dallmann and Janice Zimmerli took their places as candidates for carnival king and queen. The junior-senior banquet on April 20 was the big event of the year. We chose as our theme 'Hitch your Wagon to a Star.' Our long-awaited class rings were received this year. 'And Came the Spring,' a three-act comedy was presented by our class.

Presiding officers for the senior year were: President, Dennis Goblirsch; Vice President, Arlene Bode; Secretary, Marlys Bangerter; Treasurer, Beatrice Kalkhoff. Student Council members were Dennis Goblirsch, Fred Dallmann, Shirley Schroeder, Lorange Geske, and James Kratzke. Mr. Everett Olson was our advisor. Our class shrank once more to twenty-eight members when Lillie Sickmann failed to return for her senior year. A snake dance, floats, and a game with Walnut Grove were included in our homecoming activities. At the dance Dorothy Reynolds was crowned queen with Shirley Schroeder and Beatrice Kalkhoff attendants.

On November 9, a football banquet was given, in honor of the football players, by our class. The seniors sat before the camera of Mr. Chalmers of the Chalmers Studio from Madison, Minnesota, for our graduation pictures. The big all-year project for the seniors was the production of the senior year book. Medium Blue and Silver were the class colors, American Beauty Rose was our class flower and our motto was 'Launched, but not Anchored.'

Class Will

As we the class of '51 have finished our four years of high school at Wabasso we feel that we no longer need these traits and characteristics and will lend them to the graduates of '52.

BETTY ANDERSON has decided to give her giggles to Lila Kuehn. SHIRLEY NELSON has watched Audrey Bangerter so attentively that Audrey has decided to give her cheerleading ability to Shirley. MARLYS BANGERTER leaves her job as President of the Pep Squad to Myra Schwahn.

To Ed Schultz goes all of ARLENE BODE's studious ways. GLEN BOCK hands over to Don Mielke his ability to give girls a bad time.

Marcus Mahal is the proud receiver of LORANCE GESKE'S bright remarks.

In assistance, ARTHUR DAHMS is giving his quiet ways to Arnold Fixsen.

I, FRED DALLMANN, place my wavy wig on Gary Baab's head.

To Merlin Goudy goes GERALD FENNERN's faint footsteps.

Delores Van Meveren is going to have something new, ELLEN GAMMELGAARD's freckles.

Myrna Anderson possesses a new ability next year, it will be RED GOBLIRSCH's ability to wrestle with the English teacher. BEATRICE KALKHOFF is lending to Millie Smetak her cover girl figure.

BERNICE KALKHOFF bequeaths her athletic ability to Marion Baumann.

I, ARNOLD KAUFENBERG, leave all my crazy notes to Alvin Kruse. In next years English class Dave Bangerter will display JAMES KRATZKE's ability to sing.

In Dennis Rue's hand, ARNOLD KRUSE softly places all his girlfriends.

Germaine Baune will be leading the class with the leadership ability she is getting from PAT MAHAL.

DELORES LEHNE leaves her sound decisions to Kenneth Heiling.

Floyd Burtzel, you will receive VERNON MAXA's ability to behave on the school bus.

To Lavonne Woelfel goes all of GENE NORCUTT's shyness.

If you see Gertrude Fixsen rolling her eyes next year, she is just using the ability she received from DOROTHY REYNOLDS.

MAVIS SALFISBERG leaves her ability to get along with the music teacher to Lyle Syverson.

Charlotte Nott is the heir of SHIRLEY SCHROEDER's ability to keep her minutes straight.

I, THRASILLA SHEMON leave my ability to study before an examination to Lorraine Bergstrom.

To Lavonne Dobberstein goes HELEN SIEGFRIED's ability to write love letters and make them interesting.

KENNETH SINCLAIR wills his physique to Fred Jensen.

I, NORMA SKOBLIK bequeath my graceful ways to Darlene Schaffren.

Bernacine Ruchtaeschel, you are the proud recipient of JANICE ZIMMERLI's flirting ways.

Since I, AUDREY BANGERTER, have been holding hands for a good many years I leave a part of my ability to Lois Christensen.

Tom Whealy, you are to receive VERN MAXA's ability to assist in the lunch room.

ELLEN GAMMELGAARD lends her ability to get a man and keep him to Shirley Rudenick.

I, JAMES KRATZKE, leave my worn path to the office to Bruce Elliott.

To Orville Fröelich goes FRED DALLMAN's athletic build.

GENE NORCUTT wills his pep and ambition to Ken Radel.

DOROTHY REYNOLDS willingly gives her shyness to Phyllis Shemon.

ARLENE BODE leaves her ability to eat candy and not get caught to Treonne Robinson.

To Mr. Lokkesmoe we leave our studious and carefree ways and all the vocabulary studies.

To Mr. Flaten we leave our taxes and agreements; also our long shorthand.

To Mr. Beck we leave all our sour notes and 'A Song of Peace.'

To Mr. Eliason we leave two-thirds of the library plus one-third of the chemistry equipment which gives you enough to teach math.

To Miss O'Connell we leave all our flat basketballs.

To Mr. Baab we leave our psychology books and everything in them but the pages.

To Mr. Sooger we wish a bigger office and a secretary to go with it.

To Mr. Cummer we leave ARTHUR DAHMS' ability to peel potatoes.

Mr. Olson, you will receive the remains of our sunflower seeds, and a most essential item to clean them up with, a tooth brush.

To Anne Mahal we bequeath all our lunch tickets and the dictaphone used in shorthand class.

Class Prophecy

Let's turn the pages of time ahead ten years and look in on our graduates of '51.

We boarded the bus for the Purdue vs. Minnesota football game and found it rather crowded. We saw a seat containing only one person and sat down next to FRED DALLMANN, the Redwood county agriculture agent. After chatting awhile we picked up the daily paper and glanced at the headline which read, ARTHUR DAHMS, New Candidate for Senator, and also found KENNETH SINCLAIR as his political manager.

We turned the page and saw an advertisement which invited us to attend the 'Gladys Ballroom' and dance to the music of JIMMY KRATZKE and his orchestra, featuring LORANCE GESKE as his soloist.

On glancing around us we found our bus driver to be GLEN BOCK.

We arrived in Minneapolis in plenty of time to take in several sites. We took a street car to one of the bigger parks. The tourist guide who showed us around, we found to be GERALD FENNERN. While in the park we saw VERNON MAXA, the park policeman talking to the postman ARNOLD KRUSE. Next we saw walking toward us, spurs and all, JANICE ZIMMERLI, who now is manager of a dude ranch. With her were DOROTHY REYNOLDS and THRASILLA SHEMON who are her ranch hands.

We had just enough time to catch a bus to the game, when we saw a sign in glittering lights which read 'Opera Tonight!' BETTY ANDERSON Sensational Star.

We found a good seat in the stadium. Minnesota's football coach, DENNIS GOBLIRSCH gave a short talk and then we saw the action of a good team. A camera flashed and on glancing up we found the photographer to be GENE NORCUTT, and later when we talked to a busy reporter, SHIRLEY SCHROEDER, we found they were both working for the 'Minneapolis Star Journal.'

After the game we saw a group of teachers and came face to face with ARLENE BODE, who is teaching home economics at the university. She was on her way home from the library and asked if we knew HELEN SIEGFRIED was a librarian there.

Everybody needs a snack after an exciting game and we decided to stop into a tidy looking restaurant. Here we saw several other graduates including ARNOLD KAUFENBERG, who said he was running a dairy farm and had just been to a convention. ELLEN GAMMELGAARD, who was on a belated honeymoon, and DELORES LEHNE, who had just stepped across the street from her cashier job to get a cup of coffee. We were just about to leave when MAVIS SALFISBERG walked in and told us she was working as a telephone operator.

We saw the latest styles displayed in a shop window which read, 'Bea's and Berny's Fashion Shop.' We entered and found the owners to be the KALKHOFF TWINS. One of their smiling models was AUDREY BANGERTER. Three nurses entered to talk over plans for new uniforms, and so we met MARLYS BANGERTER, PAT MAHAL, and NORMA SKOBLIK. We had just begun to talk over the good old times at W.H.S. when one glance at the clock told us we'd better hurry if we were going to catch the bus back to Wabasso and get home for a much needed nap after such an eventful day.

Band

The band consisted of twenty-four members. The different instruments were as follows: six cornets, four clarinets, three saxophones, four trombones, one baritone, one bass horn, one glockenspiel, one bass drum, one snare drum, one Eb Alto horn, and one mellophone.

We had practice Monday thru Friday during the A period.

The first part of the year our band instructor was Mr. Ingebritson. When he left for the service we had Mr. Reineke for a period of two weeks. The next instructor and the one who finished out the year was Mr. Beck.

The band gave a concert for the student body before Mr. Ingebritson left. The next concert we gave was our spring concert.

We got some semi-classical music for the band this year.

The Student voice in school activities is represented through the Student Council.

The Student Council consists of fifteen members.

The seventh, eighth, and ninth grades have their class president as their only representative. The other classes, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth elect two members each year, one to serve for the rest of his high school years and the other two serve the year of his election.

This new system brought into existence this term eliminates the complete change of council members every year.

The officers chosen from the council were: President, Fred Dallman; Vice President, Gary Baab; Secretary, Shirley Schroeder; and Treasurer, Bruce Elliott.

This year the council took an active part in the Homecoming festivities, Christmas activities and other programs put on by the student body.

On November 30, 1950 the junior class presented a three act comedy, 'Brother Goose,' directed by Mr. Lokkesmoe. It centered around Jeff, who because of the death of his parents, is trying to raise a younger brother Wes, who is continuously chasing girls; and two younger sisters, Carol and Hyacint, a tomboy. Jeff is having a hectic time and is just about ready to send the family to Aunt Virginia's, when a successful young saleslady, Peggy Winket, enters the picture. This remedies one problem, but creates a new one plus many humorous events and incidents.
